NEARLY COMPLETED

Grand Rapids Foundry Co. Plant Will Soon be Ready For Occupancy.

Last week a reporter for the Tribune visited the new plant of the Grand Rapids Foundry Co., and to say that he was agreeably surprised with the appearance of things out that way, only half expresses the condition of affairs. The plant consists of two buildings constructed of concrete, and all complete at the present time with the exception of the laying of the floors.

One of the buildings will be used for a foundry and the other for a machine shop, and both of them are as near fireproof as it is possible to construct a place. The buildings, even to the roofs, are of concrete and a fire might be built against the wall or any part of a building and it would have no effect outside of what fire would on any mass of concrete.

The girders and uprights are also of concrete, they being braced by having steel rods run thru the concrete, there being four rods in each upright which are so bound together that the uprights are as solid as if they were made of steel.

The building which will be used for the foundry is almost completed, and after setting the cupolas in place and the installation of the fans it will be possible to commence work. In the machine shop, however, there is still considerable work to do, as the braces that support the roof were still in place, and would have to remain a few days longer before they could be taken down.

In the machine shop a cement floor will be laid, and on this will be placed the heavy machinery of the place. On both sides of the shop a gallery extends the whole length of the place, and on this will be installed the lighter machines. There will also be two electric cranes with a capacity of twenty tons, and these will travel the whole length of the shop, making it possible to handle the heaviest of work with the greatest of ease. The entire establishment will be operated by electricity and a number of motors will be installed in the near future. The wiring for the motors is now being done by John Noyes under the supervision of S. E. Holmes, and when completed it is considered that this work will be as complete as it is possible to get it.

A gang of workmen are now engaged in laying the floors in the machine shop, the concrete mixer having been moved to the inside of the building, which is kept warm, allowing work to progress without interruption.

In the main building there is also an office and pattern shop, and a storeroom, and a vault of solid concrete has also been constructed in the office, which gives added protection from fire to anything that is ordinarily placed in such a locality.

Taken altogether the place gives abundant evidence of being a model shop when completed, the like of which is seldom seen in a place of this size.

Oil Men Meet.

A meeting was held at the city hall on Friday evening for the purpose of perfecting an organization among those who have purchased stock in the oil company which it is proposed to organize. They elected Fred Kruger president and Arthur Porter vice president.

At the meeting a report from A. J. Heshbrouck and D. B. Philles was listened to, these gentlemen having just returned from the oil country, where they had gone on purpose to investigate the matter for the benefit of those in this section who had purchased oil stock. The report of these gentlemen was very favorable, there being evidence from what they could see that the investment would be a satisfactory one.

A meeting for the organization of the company will be held at Shioc-ton on the 14th of December, when the company will be organized. Peter McCamley and Fred Schnabel were elected as delegates to this meeting, and it is probable that other stockholders from here will also go. The company will be capitalized at $60,000, all of which has been subscribed for. It is expected that the work of drilling on the land of the new company will commence about the first of the year.

The investments that have been made in oil stock in this section have turned out very profitably, and the members of the new company feel that they have got a good thing.

County Clerk Enjoined.

Saturday the cities of Grand Rapids and Marshallfield and the villages of Nekosha and Port Edwards served an injunction on the county clerk to prevent him from apportioning the tax in the county as had been decided by the county board at its last meeting.

The village of Auburnville and the city of Pittsfield did not make any move in the matter, and as the apportionment was sent out by the county clerk on Tuesday, it is thought that these places will not have a chance to do anything. The matter will probably have to be thrashed out in the circuit court.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

IS UNEQUALLED FOR Coughs, Colds and Croup.

Engaged in Bad Business.

Wild Rose Times:—On Friday, thirty-three chickens were stolen from the hen house of Seth Davis and suspicion was aroused by a certain person marketing chickens in Waupaca who was known to not possess any fowls. Mr. Davis swore out warrant Monday night and Tuesday morning Marshall Prothro drove to Plainfield and arrested A. W. Timm and Mike Farrell of Grand Rapids as they were preparing to continue their journey to their new home at Kellner. They were brought before Justice Evans and on pleading guilty, paid their fine, costs and Mr. Davis for his chickens.

In the evening, W. M. Smart of the O. A. Smart Co., swore out a warrant for Mr. Timm on Criminal charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. Not being able to secure bail he was turned over to the tender custody of Marshall Prothro.

Arrangements were made Wednesday morning for Marshall Prothro to accompany Mr. Timm to Grand Rapids to secure money to settle the account which was successfully accomplished. He also sent money to pay his bills at the stores of T. H. Patterson and G. W. Pierce. Praise is due to Mr. Prothro for the able manner in which he negotiated their settlement.

Wild Rose is certainly gaining a reputation for quick and sure justice to wrongdoers.

At the Methodist Church.

—Miss D. Josephine Nichols, of Cincinnati, the evangelist, has been engaged to conduct a series of special meetings in the Methodist church, beginning Monday evening. Miss Nichols was greeted at the first meeting last evening with a good audience. Though she had been on the train since the early morning traveling all day to reach this place she delivered a sermon of unusual strength and vigor. Miss Nichols is a woman of very extra talent which, taken with her pleasing manner, and devotion to her work, has made her a great success in her work. She is in demand in the best churches of the States where she is known. The services at the church are each evening at 7:30, and everybody will be made welcome.

Short Session of Council.

The common council met in regular session at the city hall last night. The meeting was a short one, as there was very little business came before the body except the allowance of a number of bills such as usually come up.

One matter that was disposed of was the claim against the city by F. J. Wood. This was the matter in which F. J. Wood and the city of Grand Rapids were made the defendants in a case for damages for personal injuries received by Mrs. Nicholas White. The matter was settled out of court, the amount necessary to effect a settlement being $770. Of this amount Mr. Wood asked the council to pay half, and after a short deliberation and discussion it was decided to do so. This is considered a very good settlement.

The city treasurer's report showed an overdraft of $17,000, which, while seemingly large, is so much better than it was a year ago and two years ago, that it is doing fairly well and is indicative of an economical administration. At this time last year the overdraft was $24,000, and two years ago it was $40,000, which shows a very substantial reduction.

There being no further business the council adjourned.

Coming Stock Fair.

The next stock fair will be held in this city on the west side market square on Tuesday, December 12th. On that day N. Rolland will pay $1.00 for the best sample of butcher beef. Lawrence Shadkowsky will give $1.00 for the best sample of potatoes. Charles Daly wants to buy from twenty five to thirty head of one and two year old cattle, for which he will give Chicago market prices. There will also be sale for eight new milch cows.

Farmers who have anything they want to dispose of are requested to bring it in on this occasion. Don't forget the date, Tuesday, Dec 12th

Folks up Willow Creek.

The great rural romance "The Folks up Willow Creek" is shortly to appear at the opera house for one night only. This attraction brings an elaborate equipment of special scenery, mechanical and electrical effects, music and other details necessary to a perfect production. The well known comedian Frank Davidson heads the organization, which comprises a number of gift edged artists. The date set is Thursday, Dec. 14th

MANY APPLICATIONS

Thirty-Three Persons Take the Civil Service Examination Saturday.

If anybody thought that there would not be enough applicants for the position of mail carrier so that free delivery could not be established in this city, they were mistaken. It seems that there were several of our young men who are willing to take a government position, which shows a proper spirit and a desire to serve the country that is very commendable.

Saturday was certainly an anxious day for about thirty three persons who were at the Lincoln high school that afternoon to take part in the examination that was held that day for the purpose of selecting mail carriers for this city.

The carrier examination is not a hard one, there being nothing in the line of questions but an ordinary eighth grade scholar could answer it. He had remembered what he had learned. The object, however, is not merely to pass, as the ones that stand the highest are, according to civil service rules, given the preference in making the appointments. This fact naturally makes it much harder to get an appointment, as in the case in this city, there were so many applicants that only one in eight can be appointed. The following are the names of those who took the examination:

George LaRoche,
Louis J. Peryano,
Peter Colera,
George M. Otto,
Earl Crawford,
George Rowland, Jr.,
Lynn Romo,
Walter McCarthy,
R. A. Grant,
Ed Bodette,

A. M. Vanderhel,
William Bichel,
Ward Waterman,
E. H. Merrill,
George O. Fowler,
Fred Nelson,
F. E. Carey,
F. E. Collier,
Ernest Young,
P. Mickelson,
Ed Welsh,
William Suhr,
R. W. Lyon,
Roland Baldwin,
S. A. Rindelman,
R. P. Johnson,
John Hassel, Rudolph,
Miss Ella Kruger, Nekosha,
E. E. Camp, Vandriessen,
Martin Vanderhook, Marshallfield,
F. M. Dollatz, Marshallfield.

It will be some little time before the names of the successful ones are made public.

The Holy City.

Those of our people who went to witness the Holy City on Saturday evening, witnessed a play that was unusually good for a place of this size. While the character of the play may not have been such as would appeal to the large mass of theatrical goers, it was a thing that could be appreciated by all.

To take a number of characters from the bible and give them life and see them away by the passions and ambitions that actuate people of today was really a revelation. One may read the bible thru many times, and if he is not of an imaginative turn of mind he may believe that the characters described in the book acted in the cold blooded manner in which the events are chronicled. The language used in the bible is of the kind that does not fire one's imagination very much.

The play was certainly an instructive and interesting one and the different parts were well taken. The audience in attendance was not as large as it should have been at an entertainment of this sort.

ROYAL

The Absolutely Pure

Baking Powder

Made of Cream of Tartar, and Free From Alum or Phosphatic Acid

Royal Baking Powder renders bread, biscuit, cake and all flour foods finer and more healthful.

Baking powders made from alum, phosphates and other harsh, caustic acids are lower in price, but they are injurious to the stomach.

"The injurious effect of alum on the mucous coat of the stomach is positive and beyond dispute; it is both an irritant and an astringent. The use of alum in any article of food or article used in the preparation of food should be prohibited."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

William Halderson left on Tuesday for Indian Territory, where he will look over the situation with a view to remaining there the rest of the winter. Should he not be favorably impressed with the country, however, he will return here. The trip will certainly be a delightful one at this time of the year, and will worth making whether he decides to remain there or not.

If you are contemplating the purchase of anything in the line of Christmas gifts and want a piece of jewelry of any kind, you cannot do better than to see Hertz. He has the biggest stock that has ever been seen in this city. In fact, he is considerably overstocked this year and is willing to sacrifice the price in order to dispose of the goods.

Judge C. M. Wahl came over from Stevens Point Wednesday evening and spent Thanksgiving day with his family in this city. This was the first Thanksgiving that the judge was able to be at home for a number of years, and as the train was a couple of hours late on Wednesday night, he began to think he might not be here on this occasion.

The University of Wisconsin will run three experimental farms in northern Wisconsin next year, one at Ashland, one at Iron River, and one at Ashland. The soil in those places is entirely different and the problems to be worked out are what crops are best suited to each kind of soil in this northern climate. These farms are leased and will be run as long as the legislature deem it wise to expend money for experimental purposes.—Grantsburg Sentinel.

Thursday evening there will be a special Evangelistic service at the church of Christ, and on Sunday morning the pastor will preach on theme, "The Test of Discipleship." Bible school meets at 11:45 and in the evening at 7:30 the ladies of the C. W. B. M. will give their annual program consisting of special songs, solo readings, recitations, etc. Everyone is cordially invited to be present at all these services.

Prof. Seymour gave the free lecture at the facade school building on Friday afternoon to a good sized audience. The fact of the lecture being held in the afternoon made it so that a large number who would otherwise have gone could not be in attendance, but those who did go were well pleased with the lecture. It is evident that the professor has not lost any of his exceptional ability since he was here last. The first regular lecture of the course occurs on the 7th instance, and tickets for the entire course are now being sold.

S. E. Holmes, who recently resigned his position with the Consolidated company, is engaged in drawing the plans for the new paper mill at Sank Rapids, where he will have entire charge of the electrical work. All of the machinery at the new mill will be operated by electrical power so far as possible where any saving can be effected. Mr. Holmes expects to leave for Sank Rapids about the first of January.

Robert Skel, one of the old residents down Cranberry way, was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office Saturday while in the city. Mr. Skel has made his headquarters at down in that neighborhood for at least a part of the year for thirty years past, having gone in there when there was hardly a path through the wilderness. He is now located within a short distance of the station of Cranberry with facilities for traveling within easy reach.

A very simple and practical way of disposing of the more or less troublesome English sparrow is practiced by an old German resident of Appleton, who with a very ingenious contrivance of nets ensnares a large number of the birds during the week and on Sunday enjoys what he calls a palatable feast in the form of a potpie. He has an alleged delicious way of preparing this so-called delicacy by simply putting in the body of the bird a piece of apple. He then places a dozen or fifteen of birds in a pan and allows them to bake slowly.

One of our bright young men, who has been attending Prof. Bulger's academy of dancing, recently took a pedometer with him in the course of the evening he had covered thirteen and a half miles. The average length of a waltz was a half mile, of a gallop or schottische a mile, of a lancers a quarter of a mile, and of a minuet a quarter of a mile. A girl usually dances more than a man and is calculated to cover sixteen miles in a single evening. So the moral of this paragraph is that even dancing is "going some!"—Needah Republican.

Marshall News.—George and Norman Haines, of Grand Rapids, passed through here Saturday on their way home. They had been hunting deer near Stanley and on the day previous George was accidentally shot in the leg by his brother. The men were about 30 rods apart when a deer jumped up, Norman fired and an instant later was hit in the head by his brother's bullet. "I am shot," the bullet had hit a tree and falling buried itself in the unfortunate man's right leg below the knee. The wound is not considered dangerous.—M. C. Ring and a party of hunters passed thru here Monday on their way home to Nellisville. Nine deer were killed by the party. Mr. Ring killed one that weighed 220 pounds. The animal had a perfect set of horns, and was one of the finest specimens of the deer kind seen here this season. He discovered the deer while it was engaged in a deadly duel with another buck in a heavily wooded area. The ground was torn up and small trees broken down by the combatants. He witnessed one of the greatest battles he ever had the pleasure of looking at. In the excitement that followed he got but one of them.

See Prof. Bulger the dancing teacher and take private lessons in dancing or elocution.

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

Cranberry growers' Meeting.

(Wareham Mass. Courier.)

Wareham, Mass., Oct. 26, 1905.

The Executive Committee of the Cape Cod Cranberry Association met by appointment at the Wareham Press building on above date. The meeting was called to order by Chairman F. M. Marsh of said committee at 9:45 a. m.

Committee present: Seth C. C. Finney, Irving Hammond, Jos. Peters, Alonzo P. Hamblin. A quorum being present proceeded to business.

On account of the absence of the regular secretary of Executive Committee, Seth C. C. Finney was appointed secretary pro tem. A letter was read by chairman from C. C. Wood of Plymouth, expressing regret for unavoidable absence. On arrival of the regular secretary the records for the remainder of the meeting was turned over to him.

Moved: To authorize the Treasurer and Secretary of the association to procure suitable books for the purpose of recording all matters pertaining to each office, commencing with the year ensuing.

Motion carried.

Moved: That a committee, consisting of three members to be elected from the Executive Committee, to act as a financial and auditing committee for the ensuing year.

Motion carried.

Moved: That John C. MacKepeace, vice-president of the association, be considered a member of the Executive Committee, (ex officio) and as such available to be made a member of the following committee.

Motion carried.

Appointed as Finance and Auditing Committee: John C. MacKepeace, Wareham; Wm. W. Marsh, Wareham; Seth C. C. Finney, Carver.

Moved: That the Executive Committee recommended and approve a special census be taken of the cranberry industry.

Motion carried.

Moved: That the Executive Committee recommended that a thorough investigation be made into the nature and habits of the cranberry crop, worm injurious to the cranberry crop, so that proper steps may be taken to prevent, so far as possible, the great damage by said insects to cranberry cultivation.

"Too much publicity," he said, "is not good for the cranberry business; I want money for my facts and do not care to give them away to a business competitor, etc." I replied I did not look at it that way; $3 to $4 a bushel for cranberries did more damage than truthful publication of all the facts regarding this hazardous business. Outsiders are heedlessly pulled in to invest in cranberry growing. What they want to know is that it is only now and then $3 a bushel are received. But they do not know, as they should, that there is a solid run of insect, pests, frosts, scald, rot, climatic gamble, bad sales, cranberries picked and thrown away, etc. I could not convince him, Mr. Editor, so you will get no assistance there.

The weather bureau of the department of agriculture at Washington now has two bog stations, one in Wisconsin and one here in New Jersey on a Pemberton bog. This enables growers to secure data, and study up the question, enabling them to give frost warnings to cranberry growers. Of course the barometer simply indicates the weight of the air. If low it is supposed to indicate warm air, and if high, cold air, on the idea that cold air weighs more than warm. Does it? I do not know. The weather service barometer simply showed that a body of air or something else passed from the north pole and registered 30.4 degrees on the morning of September 15, 1905, at a point close to Lake Winnipeg. Its effects on plantations in Lakeland, N. J. 200 miles southward, was 20 acres of frost with a temperature of 28 degrees.

None of the government reports will show this, either its coming and the giving of warning, or its presence after it has occurred. In fact, it would be impossible for them to give warnings, as their conclusions are based on facts gathered from city and town stations. In New England there should be a station on some bog on Cape Cod; again the temperatures of bogs and low places are not the country temperature any more, than that of cities and towns.

In all this matter of information regarding cranberry crops, the old tendency to secretiveness is more or less dominant among growers. They assume the position, get all the knowledge they can and tell as little as they can. But I have always held that the strength of the business consists in the publication in full of accurate facts; that there is a loss here ground in the business. If this were known, it would prevent careless investments in cranberry growing, and save loss to a good many people.

Three weeks ago a man asked my advice if he should buy a bog. I had no advice to give him. I told him I knew nothing of the bog spoken of, that it depended entirely on who bought it. One person could take it and make money, where another would lose. Cranberry culture is the business, and a 15 or 20 mile away ownership is against the game.

Yet, if one is willing to go into cranberry growing and treat it as a business on a business basis, and have enough of it to be a business, there seems no reason why it should not pay as well as any other well conducted enterprise. It is of course subject to climate influences, as are cotton, apples, hops, grapes, or other agricultural products. If one could be assured of $2 a bushel for cranberries, it would be a paying business.

And there is a $1.50 and $1.25, and even a 50 cents a bushel side to it, which makes it uncertain. The scoop picking is revolutionizing the business, making the cost of harvesting say 30 to 35 cents a barrel, compared with the old rate of hand picking of $1.50 a barrel.

Good Demand for High Priced Cranberries.

(From American Cultivator Nov. 18.)

The cranberry situation is exceedingly strong in all the markets of the country, prices having advanced beyond the expectations of all but the most sanguine. Certain large buyers who laid in considerable stock at the beginning of the season are reported to have made large profits, and equally good profits are in sight for growers who refused to sell. Good cape stock seems to be selling in the west at from $11 to $13, and not very plenty at that. The best feature of the situation is that the public is still buying cranberries, notwithstanding the high prices, a condition which will insure the disposal of the stock without special difficulty or risk of slump at the end of the season. Some western firms talk of the probability of $15 a barrel a few weeks later in the season.

The high price of western cranberries is the occasion of a number of new enterprises in that line. The Wisconsin cranberry bog area is likely to be considerably increased if reported projects are carried out.

A Coming Attraction.

Everyone knows Frank Davidson and his company; they are frequent and welcome visitors, and always give a good, clean, honest entertainment. You run no risk in securing tickets for their appearance; they always give value received. Their new play, "The Folks up Willow Creek," is an intensely interesting comedy, and its many strong characters give ample chance for individual effort. A good company in a good play cannot fail to produce a good show. At the Opera House Thursday, December 7th.

Will go to the Senate.

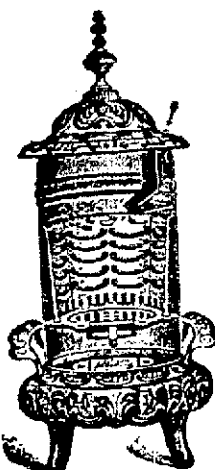

Gov. La Follette has announced his intention of going to the United States senate, so that one important matter in the state's history has been definitely settled.

"The Folks up Willow Creek" is a delightful blending of comedy, sentiment, sensation and music. Its variety pleases everyone. At the Opera House Thursday evening, Dec. 7th.

A demonstrator for the National Biscuit Co.

will be at the store of the Heinemann Mercantile Co. next week when cocoa and wafers will be served. We invite all of our friends to call and see what we have to show them.

Fire Control Saves Fuel.

To have a hot fire when you don't need it is just wasting fuel. With a Wilson Hot Blast Heater you can get exactly what you want when you want it because of the perfect control this down draft damper gives over the fire. The fire control is made possible by the patent method of taking the draft from the top, which, with sealed joints, makes the absolutely air tight. Then the hot-air draft coming from above ignites and turns into heat all the gasses in the stove. A Wilson Hot Blast Heater not only demonstrates its great heating qualities but what is equally as important is its small consumption of fuel.

No other stove can possibly give as much heat as the Wilson from the same amount of fuel, because no other stove can be made with the patented Hot Blast Down Draft. Wilson Heaters are made in different styles for soft coal and also for wood.

Result of One Fishway.

Stevens Point Journal.—The mill on the Waubesa river at Nelsonville in this county, is one of the oldest in the state. In fact it was established there before Wisconsin became a state, the wheels having been going around and around in one form or another since 1847. And prior to a short time ago, the mill has been a source of profit to its owner and a great convenience to the business men and farmers living in that vicinity. Quite recently however, John L. Loberg, the present owner, obeying a mandate of the state, caused a fishway to be built in his dam and now things are not as they used to be. The wheels have ceased to turn and in a petition to the legislature, Mr. Loberg alleges that "by reason of the plans of said fishway, and the place of location thereof, and the size of the stream, whenever he endeavors to operate the mill the water in the stream backs up under the mill and completely shuts off all power and prevents the operation of the mill." For this reason Mr. Loberg has petitioned the legislature that the present law in regard to fishways be either repealed or amended so as to afford him relief and restore to him the use of his property.

Broke His Leg.

George Minahan, who works for the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Co., had the misfortune to break his leg on Saturday while engaged in rapping logs into the mill. He was working alongside of the ship on the north end of the mill, when he slipped and fell, striking on the leg in such a manner as to break a bone of his leg.

Mr. Minahan is certainly having more than his share of misfortune, as this is the third time in as many years that he has been laid up with broken bones, all of his accidents having occurred while he was at work at the Consolidated mill.

Want Dr. Lathrop.

The Marshfield Times came out in quite a lengthy article week before last in which it stated quite emphatically that Dr. H. A. Lathrop of that city should be the next democratic candidate for governor. If a good honest man, one who has the good will and esteem of all who know him, is the kind of a man that is wanted for the position, the doctor would undoubtedly fill the place to a nicety, and we doubt if it would be possible to select a better man for the position. We should certainly be pleased to see the doctor nominated and more pleased to see him elected.

Death of Bernhart Rowland.

Bernhart, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowland, died last Wednesday afternoon of appendicitis. The little fellow was taken sick on Monday and grew rapidly worse until on Wednesday it became evident that there was only one chance of saving his life, which lay in an operation. The operation was performed on Wednesday afternoon, but it was impossible for him to withstand the shock and he died just as the operation was completed. Bernhart was a bright little fellow, loved by all who know him, and his parents have the sympathy of the community in their affliction.

Meat Pie Supper.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will serve one of their popular meat pie suppers at the church rooms in the old Post Office building, on Wednesday Dec. 13th from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. The public is invited. Supper 25 cts.

Will go to the Senate.

A PROCLAMATION

By SANTA CLAUS.

Being anxious to distribute my Christmas gifts to the good people of this town and vicinity in the most effective and satisfactory manner I have appointed SAM CHURCH my agent for the holiday season of 1905, and hereby command every man, woman and child to go to his store where one and all will find those presents which they most desire. There are shown my choicest Dolls, my prettiest Fancy Goods and Perfumes, Books, my daintiest China, and a host of other things direct from my factory in Toyland. I have charged The Bald Headed Druggist that his fees for these beautiful gifts shall be reasonable; that there must be presents to suit the taste and purse of everyone, and that he has promised me it shall be so.

My gifts will be on display every day and evening from Dec. 5th until Christmas eve.

Don't forget the place: CHURCH'S DRUG STORE.

Straight Talks on Patent Medicines

The "Rexall" Remedies deserve confidence. As all these remedies are grouped under one name, they must succeed or fail together. There must be no weak links in this chain. One unworthy remedy would mean disaster to the entire plan. If you, for example, purchased the "Rexall" Cough Cure and were not cured by it, how could we expect you to place any faith thereafter in the "Rexall" Dyspepsia Cure or any other member of the "Rexall" family?

You can understand, therefore, why such anxious care was given to finding and choosing the remedies to which the name "Rexall" was given. We have admitted none to this circle until our committee of experts had been convinced by investigation and test that it was the best remedy known to medical science for the ailment it aimed to relieve.

Who should know better than the leading thousand druggists of this country what are, and what are not, efficient medicines? Remember, the success of our enterprise depends on the merit of each individual remedy. Our reputation, which is our very business existence is at stake. Can you doubt, that in buying a "Rexall" Remedy, you are buying the best that science and experience can give you?

REXALL "93" HAIR TONIC

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is composed in chief of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpin.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ-killers discovered by a science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, antiseptic, a combination is formed which not only destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, but creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the lodgment and development of new germs.

Pilocarpin is a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp. It is not a coloring matter or dye—it produces its effect by stimulating the scalp and hair follicles to health and active life.

This combination of curatives mixed with alcohol as a stimulant, perfects the most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles known to-day. Per Bottle, 50c.

REXALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is largely due to the new and successful method of manufacture, whereby the well known properties of Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin are recognized by the entire medical profession as specifics for acute indigestion or chronic dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used is manufactured under a new process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin not only supplies to the digestive machinery one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, but it seems to exert a tonic influence upon the glands which supply all the other elements.

The carminatives add properties which promptly relieve pains caused by undigested food. The combination of the whole makes a remedy absolutely invaluable to any man or woman suffering from dyspepsia—and not only a remedy, but a cure which works by gradually rebuilding and stimulating the glands which perform the digestive functions. Package, 25c.

CHERRY JUICE COUGH SYRUP

A new idea in Cough Syrups. This preparation owes its efficiency to the presence of Wild Cherry, Vinegar Squills, Boneset, Horehound and Syrup. All of these have been known for a hundred years as remedies for coughs and hoarseness.

In Rexall Cherry Juice Cough Syrup, all of these remedies have been combined by a process of manufacture that has blended them into a perfect medicinal harmony whereby the characteristics of each support and reinforce the others.

The pathological properties of each ingredient does its own particular work in easing the inflamed membranes, loosening the phlegm and setting up a condition of health in the bronchial and nasal passages.

One spoonful will relieve the inflamed membranes and temporarily stop the cough. One bottle will work a cure. It is exceedingly pleasant to the taste—children like it. Per Bottle, 25c.

Look for this Rexall Guarantee on each package: "This preparation is guaranteed to give satisfaction. If it does not, come back and get your money. It belongs to you, and we want you to have it."

Directors—Mrs. J. E. Brazner, Mrs. Henry McLean, Henry Fitch.

Physician—Dr. Hugh F. Waters.

The train on the Lynn line of the O. M. St. Paul and North Western just west of the Yellow river bridge was back from Romadka, a long piece of track being torn up and two cars loaded with wood hauled over the embankment. The cause of the wreck is supposed to have been the crowding of the rails as the cars rounded the curve just west of the bridge. The train was made up of three cars loaded with wood and a coach in which were six passengers and the crew of three. The engine and the first car passed the point, but the second car jumped the track, tearing up the track rails and the next car pitched into the ditch. The forward trucks of the passenger coach plowed into the sandy road bed and stopped without injury to the nine persons on board, beyond a good shaking up.

Henry Ulrich has just closed a deal with Father Mahoney, of the News Boys and Orphanage association, Chicago, for a 300 acre farm, including the Sharkey-Wels farms, 2 miles west of Nekeosa, and contiguous property for $8000. Father Mahoney has $500,000 to be invested in Wood County for homes for all boys deserving good homes and this sum of money will be invested between now and spring by the H. Ulrich Co. of Chicago, Ill. Father Mahoney has been inspecting 37 estates previous to locating the boys here. His last appeal to a U. S. official for best advice was referred to the H. Ulrich Co.

The Sherman House, of which Joe. Beniz is the proprietor, caught fire early Friday morning and when discovered at about five o'clock had gained great headway, the kitchen part being badly damaged before the fire department arrived on the scene. SHORT NOTICES.

There are 8,000,000 negroes in the United States, but only 2,000 of African birth.

The total number of men in the United States liable to military service is 11,126,750.

Only 1 per cent of the telegrams sent overseas are concerned with family or private matters. The rest are of a purely commercial, journalistic or official nature.

William Dutcher, president of the National Association of Automobile Societies, has received a check for $100,000 from a well known man of the financial world, the money to be used in furthering the objects of the organization.

A Shelburne Falls (Mass.) merchant ran a contest based on the length of time that a big candle in his window would burn. It burned ninety-eight hours, fifty-six minutes and forty-six seconds. The nearest guess was nine minutes.

A brown African goose in North Attleboro, Mass., lately amazed its owner by producing an egg of extraordinary size. Around its longest circumference it measured eleven and seven-eighths inches and ten inches around its shortest. The goose weighs nineteen pounds.

MILLINERY.

Most hats lift high at the side or well built up underneath at the back.

Soft velvet crowns on the order of tams appear on many of the new hats.

Shell buckles are new, and a large one holds the stems of two long shaded plumes in the peacock colors on a deep blue hat.

A hat with an ashen of roses velvet trim has a soft crown in a tint effect of soft old blue. There is a single pink rose at the front.

Prune is one of the new colors for hats. A handsome one of this shade is raised at the front to show masses of myrtle green plumes.

A bunch of pink roses in the center of the front of the rim of a big black hat holds in place a black dotted net veil, which is edged with applique lace. The veil covers the hat and falls to the waist in the back—New York Times.

NEARLY COMPLETED

Grand Rapids Foundry Co. Plant Will Soon be Ready For Occupancy.

Last week a reporter for the Tribune visited the new plant of the Grand Rapids Foundry Co., and to say that he was greatly surprised with the appearance of things out that way, only half expressed the condition of affairs. The plant consists of two buildings constructed of concrete, and all complete at the present time with the exception of the laying of the floors.

One of the buildings will be used for a foundry and the other for a machine shop, and both of them are as near fireproof as it is possible to construct a place. The buildings, even to the roofs, are of concrete and a fire might be built against the wall or any part of a building and it would have no effect outside of what fire would on any mass of concrete.

The girls and upstarts are also of concrete, they being braced by having steel rods run thru the concrete, there being four rods in each upright which are so bound together that the upstarts are as solid as if they were made of steel.

The building which will be used for the foundry is almost completed, and after setting the cupolas in place and the installation of the fans it will be possible to commence work. In the machine shop, however, there is still considerable work to do, as the cranes that support the roof were still in place, and would have to remain a few days longer before they could be taken down.

In the machine shop a cement floor will be laid, and on this will be placed the heavy machinery of the place. On both sides of the shop a gallery extends the whole length of the place, and on this will be installed the lighter machines. There will also be two electric cranes with a capacity of twenty tons, and these will travel the whole length of the shop, making it possible to handle the heaviest work with the greatest ease. The entire establishment will be operated by electricity and a number of motors will be installed in the near future. The wiring for the motors is now being done by John Noyes under the supervision of S. E. Holmes, and when completed it is considered that this work will be as complete as it is possible to get it.

A gang of workmen are now engaged in laying the floors in the machine shop, the concrete mixer having been moved to the inside of the building, which is kept warm, allowing work to progress without interruption.

In the main building there is also an office and pattern shop, and a storeroom, and a vault of solid concrete has also been constructed in this office, which gives added protection from fire to anything that is ordinarily placed in such a locality.

Taken altogether the place gives abundant evidence of being a model shop when completed, the like of which is seldom seen in a place of this size.

Oil Men Meet.

A meeting was held at the city hall on Friday evening for the purpose of perfecting an organization among those who have purchased stock in the oil company which it is proposed to organize. They elected Fred Kruger president and Arthur Porter vice president.

At the meeting a report from A. J. Haselwood and D. B. Phillos was listened to, these gentlemen having just returned from the oil country, where they had gone on purpose to investigate the matter for the benefit of those in this section who had purchased oil stock. The report of these gentlemen was very favorable, there being evidence from what they could see that the investment would be a satisfactory one.

A meeting for the organization of the company will be held at Shiocton on the 14th of December, when the company will be organized. Peter McCumley and Fred Schnabel were elected as delegates to this meeting, and it is probable that other stockholders from here will also go. The company will be capitalized at $60,000, all of which has been subscribed for. It is expected that the work of drilling on the land of the new company will commence about the first of the year.

The investments that have been made in oil stock in this section have turned out very profitably, and the members of the new company feel that they have got a good thing.

County Clerk Enjoined.

Saturday the cities of Grand Rapids and Marshall and the villages of Nokona and Port Edwards served an injunction on the county clerk to prevent him from apportioning the tax in the county as had been decided by the county board at its last meeting. The village of Auburndale and the city of Pittsville did not make any move in the matter, and as the apportionment was sent out by the county clerk on Tuesday, it is thought that these places will not have a chance to do anything. The matter will probably have to be thrashed out in the circuit court.

Engaged in Bad Business.

Wild Rose Times:—On Friday, thirty-three chickens were stolen from the hen house of Seth Davis and suspicion was aroused by a certain person marketing chickens in Wausau who was known to not possess any fowls. Mr. Davis swore out warrant Monday night and Tuesday morning Marshall Prothroco drove to Plainfield and arrested A. W. Timm and Mike Farrol of Grand Rapids as they were preparing to continue their journey to their new home at Kellner. They were brought before Justice Ewans and on pleading guilty, paid their fine, costs and Mr. Davis for his chickens.

In the evening, W. M. Smart of the O. A. Smart Co., swore out a warrant for Mr. Timm on Criminal charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. Now being able to secure bail he was turned over to the tender custody of Marshall Prothroco.

Arrangements were made Wednesday morning for Marshall Prothroco to accompany Mr. Timm to Grand Rapids to secure money to settle the account which was successfully accomplished. He also sent money to pay his bills at the stores of T. H. Patterson and G. W. Pierce. Fractions due to Mr. Prothroco for the able manner in which he negotiated their settlement.

Wild Rose is certainly gaining a reputation for quick and sure justice to wrongdoers.

At the Methodist Church.

—Miss D. Josephine Nichols, of Cincinnati, the evangelist, has been engaged to conduct a series of special meetings in the Methodist church, beginning Monday evening. Miss Nichols was greeted at the first meeting last evening with a good audience. Though she had been on the train since the early morning traveling all day to reach this place she delivered a sermon of unusual strength and vigor. Miss Nichols is a woman of very extra talents which, taken with her pleasing manner, and devotion to her work, has made her a great success in her work. She is in demand in the best churches of the States where she is known. The services at the church are each evening at 7:30, and everybody will be made welcome.

Short Session of Council.

The common council met in regular session at the city hall last night. The meeting was a short one, as there was very little business came before the body except the allowance of a number of bills such as usually come up.

One matter that was disposed of was the claim against the city by F. J. Wood. This was the matter in which E. J. Wood and the city of Grand Rapids were made the defendants in a case for damages for personal injuries received by Mrs. Nicholas White. The matter was settled out of court, the amount necessary to effect a settlement being $700. Of this amount Mr. Wood asked the council to pay half, and after a short deliberation and discussion it was decided to do so. This is considered a very good settlement.

The city treasurer's report showed an overdraft of $17,000, which, while seemingly large, is so much better than it was a year ago and two years ago, that is doing fairly well and is indicative of an economical administration. At this time last year the overdraft was $28,000, and two years ago it was $40,000, which shows a very substantial reduction.

There being no further business the council adjourned.

Coming Stock Fair.

The next stock fair will be held in this city on the west side market square on Tuesday, December 12th. On that day N. Reiland will pay $1.00 for the best sample of butcher beef. Lawrence Shadkowsky will give $1.00 for the best sample of potatoes. Charles Daly wants to buy from twenty five to thirty head of one and two year old cattle, for which he will give Chicago market prices. There will also be sale for eight new milch cows.

Farmers who have anything they want to dispose of are requested to bring it in on this occasion. Don't forget the date, Tuesday, Dec 12th

Folks up Willow Creek.

The great rural romance "The Folks up Willow Creek" is shortly to appear at the opera house for one night only. This attraction brings an elaborate equipment of special scenery, mechanical and electrical effects, music and other details necessary to a perfect production. The well known comedian Frank Davidson heads the organization, which comprises a number of gilt edged artists. The date set is Thursday, Dec. 14th

MANY APPLICATIONS

Thirty-Three Persons Take the Civil Service Examination Saturday.

If anybody thought that there would not be enough applicants for the position of mail carrier so that free delivery could not be established in this city, they were mistaken. It seems that there were several of our young men who are willing to take a government position, which shows a proper spirit and a desire to serve the country that is very commendable.

Saturday was certainly an auspicious day for about thirty-three persons who were at the Lincoln high school that afternoon to take part in the examination that was held that day for the purpose of selecting mail carriers for this city.

The carrier examination is not a hard one, there being nothing in the line of questions but an ordinary eighth grade scholar could answer if he had remembered what he had learned. The object, however, is not merely to pass, as the ones that stand the highest are, according to civil service rules, given the preference in making the appointments. This fact naturally makes it much harder to get an appointment, as in the 1000 in this city, there were so many applicants that only one in eight can be appointed. The following are the names of those who took the examination:

George LaBroche.
Louis J. Poryuan.
Peter Coder.
George M. Otto.
Earl Crawford.
George Rowland, Jr.
Lynn Renne.
Wilbur McCarthy.
R. A. Grant.
Ed Boileau.

R. P. Johnson.
John Hassel, Rudolph.
Miss Ella Kruger, Nokona.
E. E. Camp, Vandriessou.
Martin Vanderhook, Marshallfield.
F. M. Dollzal, Marshallfield.
It will be some little time before the names of the successful ones are made public.

The Holy City.

Those of our people who went to witness the Holy City on Saturday evening, witnessed a play that was unusually good for a place of this size. While the character of the play may not have been such as would appeal to the large mass of theatre goers, it was a thing that could be appreciated by all.

To take a number of characters from the bible and give them life and see them awayed by the passions and ambitions that actuate people of today was really a revelation. One may read the bible thru many times, and if he is not of an imaginative turn of mind he may believe that the characters described in the book acted in the cold blooded manner in which the events are chronicled. The language used in the bible is of the kind that does not fire one's imagination very much.

The play was certainly an instructive and interesting one and the different parts were well taken. The audience in attendance was not as large as it should have been at an entertainment of this sort.

Court to Convene.

Circuit court will convene in this city on the 14th instant. It will be an adjourned session, the judge having adjourned the regular session at the close of the jury cases on account of having court elsewhere. There are quite a number of cases to come up.

Charity Ball Filled.

The Elks have completed the arrangements for the charity ball and the event occurs next Friday evening at the opera house. Music will be furnished by the Imperial orchestra, which is abundant assurance that this part of the entertainment will be all right. The members of the orchestra have donated their services, and the use of the hall has also been donated by Manager Hamilton, and other minor things have been donated, so that the only expense connected with the affair will be what donating is done in the hall, which will probably not be elaborate. Tickets will be sold at $2 each and the city will be thereby canvassed so that everybody will be given a chance to help along the cause. Those who are not so favored will still have a chance to buy a ticket at the door on the evening of the dance. The different branches of the work are under the following supervision: Guy Wood and A. H. Boyer, decorating. George Town, music. J. C. Hamilton, dancing. Rob Nash, refreshments, and Sam Church, floor.

Everything possible will be done by the members to make this an enjoyable affair, and those who decide to attend may be sure of a good time. As all of the money taken in will be used for charitable purposes, those who do not go need not be afraid to purchase a ticket.

Will Abandon Football.

Again the world has been sent forth that "unless the rules are very materially changed, that several of the colleges will forbid football." Another case of history repeating itself. In this respect history has been repeating itself about once a year for a number of years past. But the present case is not little boast. Already Columbia college has forbidden the game! Of course they might have saved themselves this trouble, as they were not playing the game very hard, and very little of the world know that they were playing at all. Not a great deal of trouble for Columbia to stop playing football.

But it will be different with these colleges that having been striving for supremacy for a number of years past. It is probable that they will continue in the same old way for some time to come.

The Art of Christmas Buying.

—The master of buying Christmas presents for friends and relatives is becoming more of an art every year. This is because there are so many new things coming out and so much shoddy stuff put on the market that a person never knows just where he is at. If the merchant is not honest the customer may pay dollars where cents would have done the same business. There is just one way to come out all right in this business and that is to patronize a man you know to be reliable. This is especially necessary in purchasing jewelry, the thing that is bought more than anything else for Christmas gifts. There is where you have the advantage in trading with a man. Like A. P. Hirzy, the jeweler. The price he sells a thing for tells the quality, and you can always feel safe in patronizing him. He has the largest stock in the city and it includes watches, clocks, jewelry of all kinds, diamonds, sterling silver, ware, fine china, rings, chains and ornaments, musical instruments and a host of other things suitable for an occasion of this kind. It will be to your interest to see him before you purchase.

Court to Convene.

Circuit court will convene in this city on the 14th instant. It will be an adjourned session, the judge having adjourned the regular session at the close of the jury cases on account of having court elsewhere. There are quite a number of cases to come up.

ROYAL

The Absolutely Pure Baking Powder

Made of Cream of Tartar, and Free From Alum or Phosphatic Acid

Royal Baking Powder renders bread, biscuit, cake and all flour foods finer and more healthful.

Baking powders made from alum, phosphates and other harsh, caustic acids are lower in price, but they are injurious to the stomach.

"The injurious effect of alum on the mucous coat of the stomach is positive and beyond dispute; it is both an irritant and an astringent. The use of alum in any article of food or article used in the preparation of food should be prohibited."

Wallace Anderson left on Tuesday for Indian Territory, where he will look over the situation with a view to remaining there the rest of the winter. Should he not be favorably impressed with the country, however, he will return here. The trip will certainly be a delightful one at this time of the year, and will worth making whether he decides to remain there or not.

If you are contemplating the purchase of anything in the line of Christmas gifts and want a piece of jewelry of any kind, you cannot do better than to see Hilly. He has the biggest stock that has ever been seen in this city, in fact, he is considerably overstocked this year and is willing to sacrifice the price in order to dispose of the goods.

Judge C. M. Webb came over from Stevens Point Wednesday evening and spent Thanksgiving day with his family in this city. This was the first Thanksgiving that the judge was able to be at home for a number of years, and as the train was a couple of hours late on Wednesday night, he began to think he might not be here on this occasion.

The University of Wisconsin will run three experimental farms in northern Wisconsin next year, one at Superior, one at Iron River, and one at Ashland. The soil in these places is entirely different and the problems to be worked out are what crops are best suited to each kind of soil in this northern climate. These farms are leased and will be run as long as the legislators deem it wise to expend money for experimental purposes.—Granby Sentinel.

Thursday evening there will be a special service at the Church of Christ, and on Sunday morning the Pastor will preach on theme, "The Test of Discipleship." Bible school meets at 11:45 and in the evening at 7:30 the ladies of the C. W. B. M. will give their annual program consisting of special songs, select readings, recitations, etc. Everyone is cordially invited to be present at all these services.

Prof. Seymour gave the free lecture at the Lincoln school building on Friday afternoon to a good sized audience. The fact of the lecture being held in the afternoon made it so that a large number who would otherwise have come could not be in attendance, but those who did go were well pleased with the lecture. It is evident that the professor has not lost any of his exceptional ability since he was here last. The first regular lecture of the course occurs on the 7th instant, and tickets for the entire course are now being sold.

S. E. Holmes, who recently resigned his position with the Consolidated company, is engaged in drawing the plans for the new paper mill at Sauk Rapids, where he will have entire charge of the electrical work. All of the machinery at the new mill will be operated by electrical power so far as possible, where any saving can be effected. Mr. Holmes expects to leave for Sauk Rapids about the first of January.

Robert Skeel, one of the old residents down Graunmor way, was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office Saturday while in the city. Mr. Skeel has made his headquarters down in that neighborhood for at least a part of the year for thirty years past, having gone in there when there was hardly a path through the wilderness. He is now located within a short distance of the station of Graunmor with facilities for traveling within easy reach.

A very simple and practical way of disposing of the more or less troublesome English sparrow is practiced by an old German resident of Appleton, who with a very ingenious contrivance of nets encloses a large number of the birds during the week and on Sunday enjoys what he calls a palatable feast in the form of a potpie. He has an alleged delicious way of preparing this so called delicacy by simply putting in the body of the bird a piece of apple. He then places a dozen or fifteen of birds in a pan and allows them to take slowly.

One of our bright young men of an investigating turn of mind, who has been attending Prof. Bulger's academy of dancing, recently took a pedometer with him to the opera house, and found that in the course of the evening he had covered thirteen and a half miles. The average length of a walk was a half mile, of a gallop or a trot was a mile, and a gallop a quarter of a mile. A girl usually dances more than a man, and is calculated to cover sixteen miles in a single evening. So the moral of this paragraph is that even dancing is "going some"—Needham Republican.

Marshfield News:—George and Norman Plains, of Grand Rapids, passed through here Saturday on their way home. They had been hunting deer near Stanley and on the day previous George was accidentally shot in the leg by his brother. The men were about 30 rods apart when a deer jumped up, Norman fired and an instant later was horrified at hearing his brother shout "I am shot." The bullet had hit a tree and rebounding back had hit the unfortunate hunter's right leg below the knee. The wound is not considered dangerous.—M. C. Ring and a party of hunters passed thru here Monday on their way home to Nellisville. Nine deer were killed by the party. Mr. Ring killing one that weighed 350 pounds. The animal had a perfect set of horns, and was one of the finest specimens of the deer kind seen here this season. He discovered the deer while it was engaged in a deadly duel with another buck and in also. For a half an hour the ground was torn up and small trees broken down by the combatants. He crept onto the pair and before shooting witnessed one of the greatest battles he ever had the pleasure of looking at. In the excitement that followed he got but one of them.

Cranberry Growers' Meeting.

(Wareham Mass. Corner)

Wareham, Mass., Oct. 26, 1905.

The Executive Committee of the Cape Cod Cranberry Association met by appointment at the Wareham Press building on above date. The meeting was called to order by Chairman F. F. Marsh of said committee at 9:45 a. m.

Present: Seth C. C. Finney, Mr. Irving Hammond, Jos. Peters, Alonzo P. Hembach. A quorum being present proceeded to business.

On account of the absence of the regular secretary of Executive Committee, Seth C. C. Finney was appointed secretary pro tem. A letter was read by chairman from C. C. Wood of Plymouth, expressing regret for unavoidable absence. On arrival of the regular secretary the records for the remainder of the meeting was turned over to him.

"Two much publicity," he said, "is not good for the cranberry business. I spent money for my facts and do not care give them away to a business competitor, etc." I replied I did not look at it that way; $3 to $4 a bushel for cranberries did more damage than truthful publication of all the facts regarding this hazardous business. Outsiders are heedlessly pulled in to invest in cranberry growing. What they want to know is that it is only now and then $3 a bushel are received. But they do not know, as they should, that there is a solid run of climate, pests, frosts, scald, rot, climate, gambled, bad sales, cranberries picked and thrown away, etc. I could not convince him, Mr. Editor, so you will get no assistance there.

The weather bureau of the department of agriculture at Washington now has two bog stations, one in Wisconsin and one here in New Jersey on a Pemberton bog. This enables growers to secure data, and study up the question, enabling them to give frost warnings to cranberry growers. Of course the barometer simply reads the weight of the air.

If it is supposed to indicate warm air, and if high, cold air, on the idea "Yes, cold air weighs more than warm. Does it? I do not know." The weather service barometer simply showed that a body of air or something else passed from the north pole and registered 30.4 degrees on the morning of September 12, 1905, at a point close to Lake Winnipeg. Its effects on plants in Lahavay, N. J. 200 + 1/2 southward, was 30 acres of frost with a temperature of 28 degrees.

None of the government reports will show this, either its coming and the giving of warning, or its presence after it has occurred. In fact, it would be impossible for them to give warnings, as their conclusions are based on facts gathered from city and town stations. In New England there should be a station on some bog on Cape Cod; again the temperatures of bogs and low places are not the country temperature any more than that of cities and towns.

In all this information regarding cranberry crops, the old tendency to secretiveness is more or less dominant among growers. They assume the position, get all the knowledge they can and tell as little as they can. But I have always held that the strength of the business consists in the publication in full of accurate facts; that there is a loss in secrecy; that there is a loss in the ground in the business. If this were known, it would be a great advantage to growers in cranberry growing, and save loss to a good many people. Three weeks ago a man asked my advice if he should buy a bog. I had no advice to give him. I told him I knew nothing of the bog spoken of, that it depended entirely on who bought it. One person could take it and make money, while another would lose. Cranberry culture is the business, and a 15 or 20 mile away ownership is against the game.

Yet, if one is willing to go into cranberry growing and treat it as a business on a business basis, and have enough of it to be a business, there seems no reason why it should not pay as well as any other well conducted enterprise. It is of course subject to climate influences, as are cotton, apples, hops, grapes, or other agricultural products. If one could be assured of $2 a bushel for cranberries, it would be a paying business. And there is a $1.50 and $2.25, and even a 50 cents a bushel side to it, which makes it uncertain. The secret picking is revolutionizing the business making the cost of harvesting say 30 to 35 cents a barrel, compared with the old rate of hand picking of $1.50 a barrel.

Good Demand for High Priced Cranberries.

(From American Cultivator Nov. 18.)

The cranberry situation is exceedingly strong in all the markets of the country, prices having advanced beyond the expectations of all but the most sanguine. Certain large buyers who laid in considerable stock at the beginning of the season are reported to have made large profits, and equally good profits are in sight for growers who refused to sell. Good cape stock seems to be selling in the west at from $11 to $13, and not very plenty at that. The best feature of the situation is that the public is still buying cranberries, notwithstanding the high prices, a condition which will insure the disposal of the stock without special difficulty or risk of slump at the end of the season. Some western farmers talk of the probability of $15 a barrel a few weeks later in the season.

The high price of western cranberries is the occasion of a number of new enterprises in that line. The Wisconsin cranberry bog area is likely to be considerably increased if reported projects are carried out.

A Coming Attraction.

Everyone knows Frank Davidson and his company; they are frequent and welcome visitors, and always give a good, clean, honest entertainment. You run no risk in securing tickets for their appearance; they always give value received. Their new play, "The Folks up Willow Creek," is an intensely interesting comedy, and its many strong characters give ample chance for individual effort. A good company in a good play cannot fail to produce a good show at the Opera House Thursday, December 8th.

—Prof. Bulger, the dancing master will open a school of dancing at the Foresters hall Saturday, Dec. 9th. Childrens class at 2:30 afternoon.

Fire Control Saves Fuel.

To have a hot fire when you don't need it is a waste of fuel. With a Wilson Hot Blast Heater you can get exactly what you want when you want it because of the perfect control this down draft damper gives over the fire. The fire control is made possible by the patent method of taking the draft from the top, which, with sealed joints, makes the absolutely air tight. Then the hot-air draft coming from above ignites, and turns into heat all the gasses in the stove. A Wilson Hot Blast Heater not only demonstrates its great heating qualities but what is equally as important is its small consumption of fuel.

No other stove can possibly give as much heat as the Wilson from the same amount of fuel, because no other stove can be made with the patented Hot Blast Down Draft. Wilson Heaters are made in different styles for soft coal and also for wood.

Result of One Fishway.

Stevens Point Journal.—The mill on the Waupesa river at Nelsonville in this county, is one of the oldest in the state. In fact it was established there before Wisconsin became a state, the wheels having been going around and around in one form or another since 1847. And prior to a short time ago, the mill had been a great convenience to the business men and farmers living in that vicinity. Quite recently however, John L. Leberg, the present owner obeying a mandate of his state, caused a fishway to be built in his dam and now things are not as they used to be. The wheels have ceased to turn and in a petition to the legislature, Mr. Leberg alleges that "by reason of the plans of a fishway, and the place of location thereof, and the size of the stream, whenever he endeavors to operate the mill the water in the stream backs up under the mill and completely shuts off all power and prevents the operation of the mill." For this reason Mr. Leberg has petitioned the legislature that the present law in regard to fishways be either repealed or amended so as to afford him relief and restore to him the use of his property.

It is stated that the fishway is a series of four locks, each under the high school. The subjects of the lectures are Julius Caesar, Harold, King of the Jews, Lorenzo de Medici, and Queen Elizabeth.

The lectures will begin at 8:30 p. m. Tickets for the course of four lectures will be sold at $1.00 each. Single admission adults 50c, children 10c.

Broke His Leg.

George Minahan, who works for the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Co., had the misfortune to break his leg on Saturday while engaged in running logs into the mill. He was working alongside of the ship on the north end of the mill, when he slipped and fell, striking on the toe in such a manner as to break a bone of his leg.

Mr. Minahan is certainly having more than his share of misfortune, as this is the third time in as many years that he has been laid up with broken bones, all of his accidents having occurred while he was at work at the Consolidated mill.

Want Dr. Lathrop.

The Marshfield Times came out in quite a lengthy article week before last in which it stated quite emphatically that Dr. H. A. Lathrop of that city should be the next democratic candidate for governor. If a good honest man, one who has a whole lot of ability, and who has the good will and esteem of all who know him, is the kind of a man that is wanted for the position, the doctor would undoubtedly fill the place to a T, and we doubt if it would be possible to select a better man for the position. We should certainly be pleased to see the doctor nominated and more pleased to see him elected.

Death of Bernhart Rowland.

Bernhart, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowland, died last Wednesday afternoon of appendicitis. The little fellow was taken sick on Monday and grew rapidly worse until on Wednesday he became evident that there was only one chance of saving his life, which lay in an operation. The operation was performed on Wednesday afternoon, but it was impossible for him to withstand the shock and he died just as the operation was completed. Bernhart was a bright little fellow, loved by all who knew him, and his parents have the sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

Straight Talks on Patent Medicines

The "Rexall" Remedies deserve confidence.

As all these remedies are grouped under one name, they must succeed or fail together. There must be no weak links in this chain. One unworthy remedy would mean disaster to the entire plan. If you, for example, purchased the "Rexall" Cough Cure and were not cured by it, how could we expect you to place any faith thereafter in the "Rexall" Dyspepsia Cure or any other member of the "Rexall" family?

You can understand, therefore, why such anxious care was given to finding and choosing the remedies to which the name "Rexall" was given. We have admitted none to this circle until our committee of experts had been convinced by investigation and test that it was the best remedy known to medical science for the ailment it aimed to relieve.

Who should know better than the leading thousand druggists of this country what are, and what are not, efficient medicines?

Remember, the success of our enterprise depends on the merit of each individual remedy. Our reputation, which is our very business existence is at stake. Can you doubt, that in buying a "Rexall" Remedy, you are buying the best that science and experience can give you?

Here are three prominent members of the "Rexall" family:

REXALL "99" HAIR TONIC

The famous Rexall "99" Hair Tonic is composed in chief of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpin.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germicides discovered by a science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which not only destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, but creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the lodgment and development of new germs.

Pilocarpin is a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp. It is not a coloring matter or dye—it produces its effect by stimulating the scalp and hair follicles to health and active life.

This combination of curatives mixed with alcohol as a stimulant, perfects the most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles known to-day.

Per Bottle, 50c.

REXALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is largely due to the new and successful method of manufacture, whereby the well known properties of Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin are recognized by the entire medical profession as specific for acute indigestion or chronic dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used is manufactured under a new process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin not only supplies to the digestive machinery one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, but it tends to exert a tonic influence upon the glands which supply all the other elements.

The carminatives add properties which promptly relieve pains caused by undigested food. The combination of the whole makes a remedy absolutely invaluable to any man or woman suffering from dyspepsia—and not only a remedy, but a cure which works by gradually rebuilding and stimulating the glands which perform the digestive functions. Package, 25c.

CHERRY JUICE COUGH SYRUP

A new idea in Cough Syrup. This preparation owes its efficiency to the presence of Wild Cherry, Wilder Squills, Boneset, Horehound and Syrup.

All of these have been known for a hundred years as remedies for coughs and hoarseness.

In Rexall Cherry Juice Cough Syrup, all of these remedies have been combined by a process of manufacture that has blended them into a perfect mechanical harmony whereby the characteristics of each support and reinforce the others.

The pathological properties of each ingredient does its own particular work in easing the inflamed membranes, loosening the phlegm and setting up a condition of health in the bronchial and nasal passages.

One spoonful will relieve the inflamed membranes and temporarily stop the cough. One bottle will work a cure. It is exceedingly pleasant to the taste—

The train on the Lynn line of the C. M. St. Paul and was wrecked just west of the Yellow river bridge at Danville last Monday noon on its way back from Romacka, a long piece of track being torn up and two cars loaded with wood hurled over the embankment. The cause of the wreck is supposed to have been the spreading of the rails as the cars rounded the curve just west of the bridge. The train was made up of three cars loaded with wood and a coach in which were six passengers and the crew of three. The engine and the first car passed the point, but the second car jumped the track, tearing up the track rails and the next car pitched into the ditch. The forward trucks of the passenger coach plowed into the sandy road bed and stopped without injury to the nine persons on board, beyond a good shaking up.

Henry Ulrich has just closed a deal with Father Mahoney, of the News Boys' and Orphanage association, Chicago, for a 330 acre farm, including the Sharkey-Wais farms, 3 miles west of Nekosco, and contiguous property for $3000. Father Mahoney has $200,000 to be invested in Wood County for homes for all boys deserving good homes and this sum of money will be invested between now and spring by the H. Ulrich Co. of Chicago, Ill. Father Mahoney has been inspecting 37 states previous to locating the boys here. His last appeal to a U. S. official for best advice was referred to the H. Ulrich Co.

The Sherman House, of which Jos. Bantz is the proprietor, caught fire early Friday morning and when discovered at about five o'clock had gained great headway, the kitchen part being badly damaged before the fire department arrived on the scene. By hard work the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flame and saved the main building.
